

S

Supported by

S m

Storyteller has youngsters spellbound

PROFESSIONAL story teller Michael O'Leary had a captive audience when he visited Wokingham's Keep Hatch Junior School, in Ashridge Road. The Hagstone Story Teller dragged his story box of props and musical instruments all the way from Southampton to weave a magical web of tales for the children, who greeted him with open arms.

► Magical tales:
youngsters greet
Mike O'Leary.

W081800
Picture by James Wilson